Highlights and trends

Introduction

In this brief report we have ranked the global top 100 companies by market capitalisation and highlighted the major trends since 2009 as they emerged from the global financial crisis.

Key highlights

- The market capitalisation of the global top 100 has increased to more than double post-crisis levels, up 12% compared to 31 March 2016.
- Apple retains the pole position for the 6th year in a row. Apple's market cap increased by 25% and the gap with second placed Alphabet (ex-Google) has more than doubled to $175bn.
- The Top 3 companies are unchanged compared to last year. New entry in the Top 10 is JP Morgan Chase, with GE falling out of Top 100 this year.
- Technology is the largest sector in terms of market cap ($3,582bn), in second place was the Financial sector ($3,352bn), recording the highest number of companies (21), Consumer goods ($2,660bn) came third.
- The US is still increasing its dominance 55 out of 100 are US companies and the top 10 are all US companies. Europe continues to fall behind in its share of the Top 100.
- A total of $701bn has been distributed to shareholders by the Top 100 companies.

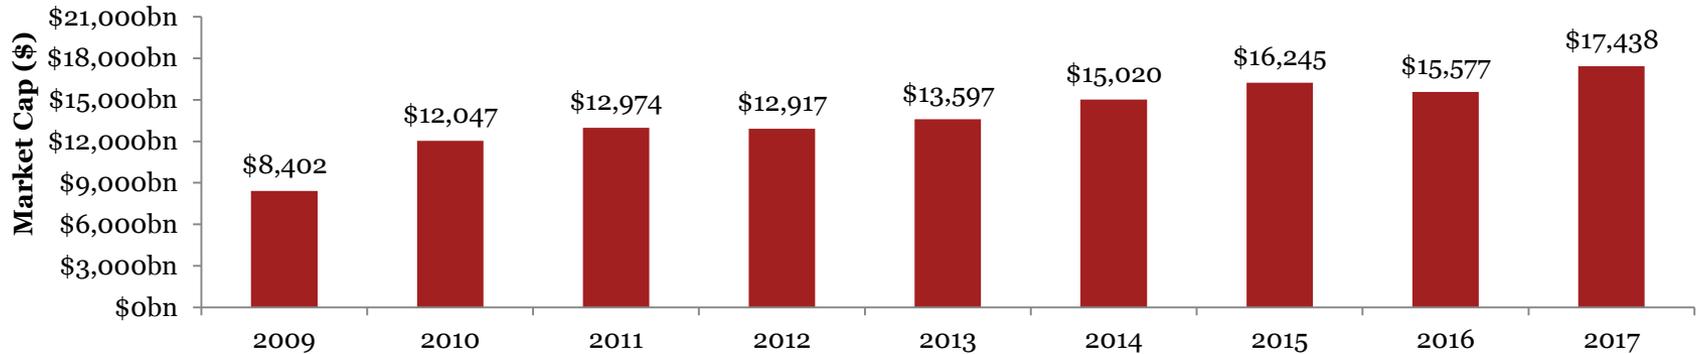

The ranking methodology

Methodology

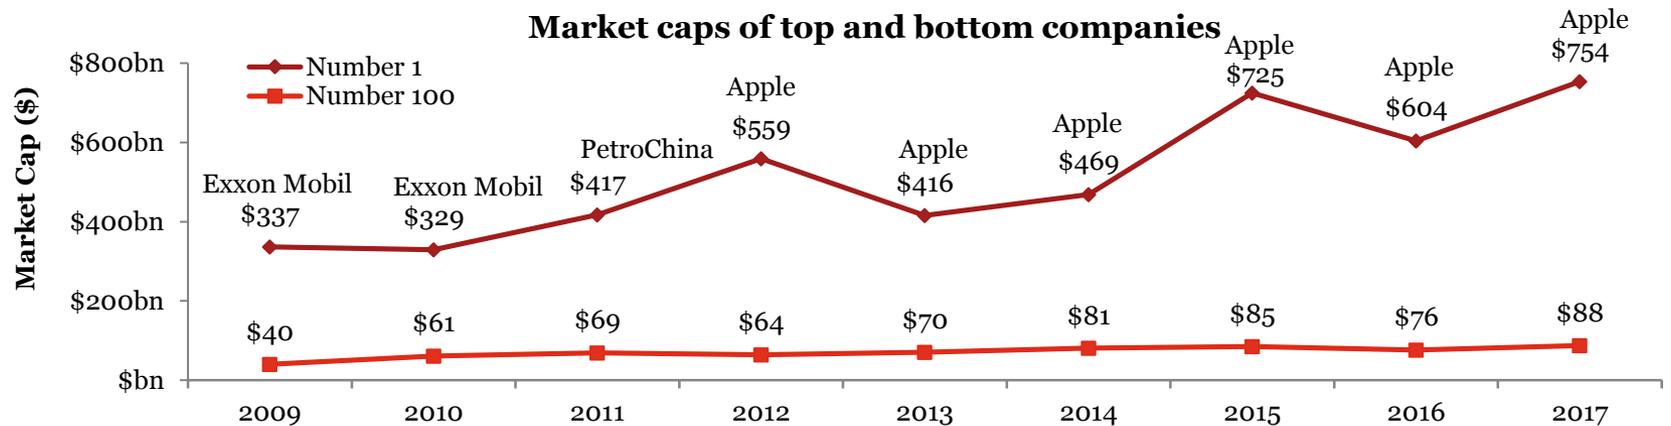

- The Global Top 100 list ranks companies by their market capitalisation in US$ as at 31 March 2017 and compares this with the Top 100 list as at 31 March 2016 and 2009
- Data source is Bloomberg, with PwC analysis
- Industry classification is based on ICB
- ETFs and closed end funds are excluded from the analysis
- In order to meet market perception we allocated dual-listed companies as follows: BHP Billiton (AUS), Rio Tinto (UK), Royal Dutch Shell (UK) and Unilever (NL)
- The ranking does not compensate for changes in currency exchange rates
- The distribution of value is based on dividend payments and share repurchases in 2016

Apple extends its lead in the fight for the top spot

- Apple is still the world's most valuable company. Apple has clearly pulled ahead of Alphabet (ex-Google) this year. Alphabet temporarily dethroned Apple in February 2016 for the first time.
- But Apple is also returning cash to shareholders with another $29bn handed back to investors in dividends and share repurchases in calendar year 2016 ($42bn was distributed in 2015). Alphabet only distributed $4bn in 2016.

Market cap of the Top 100 by world region

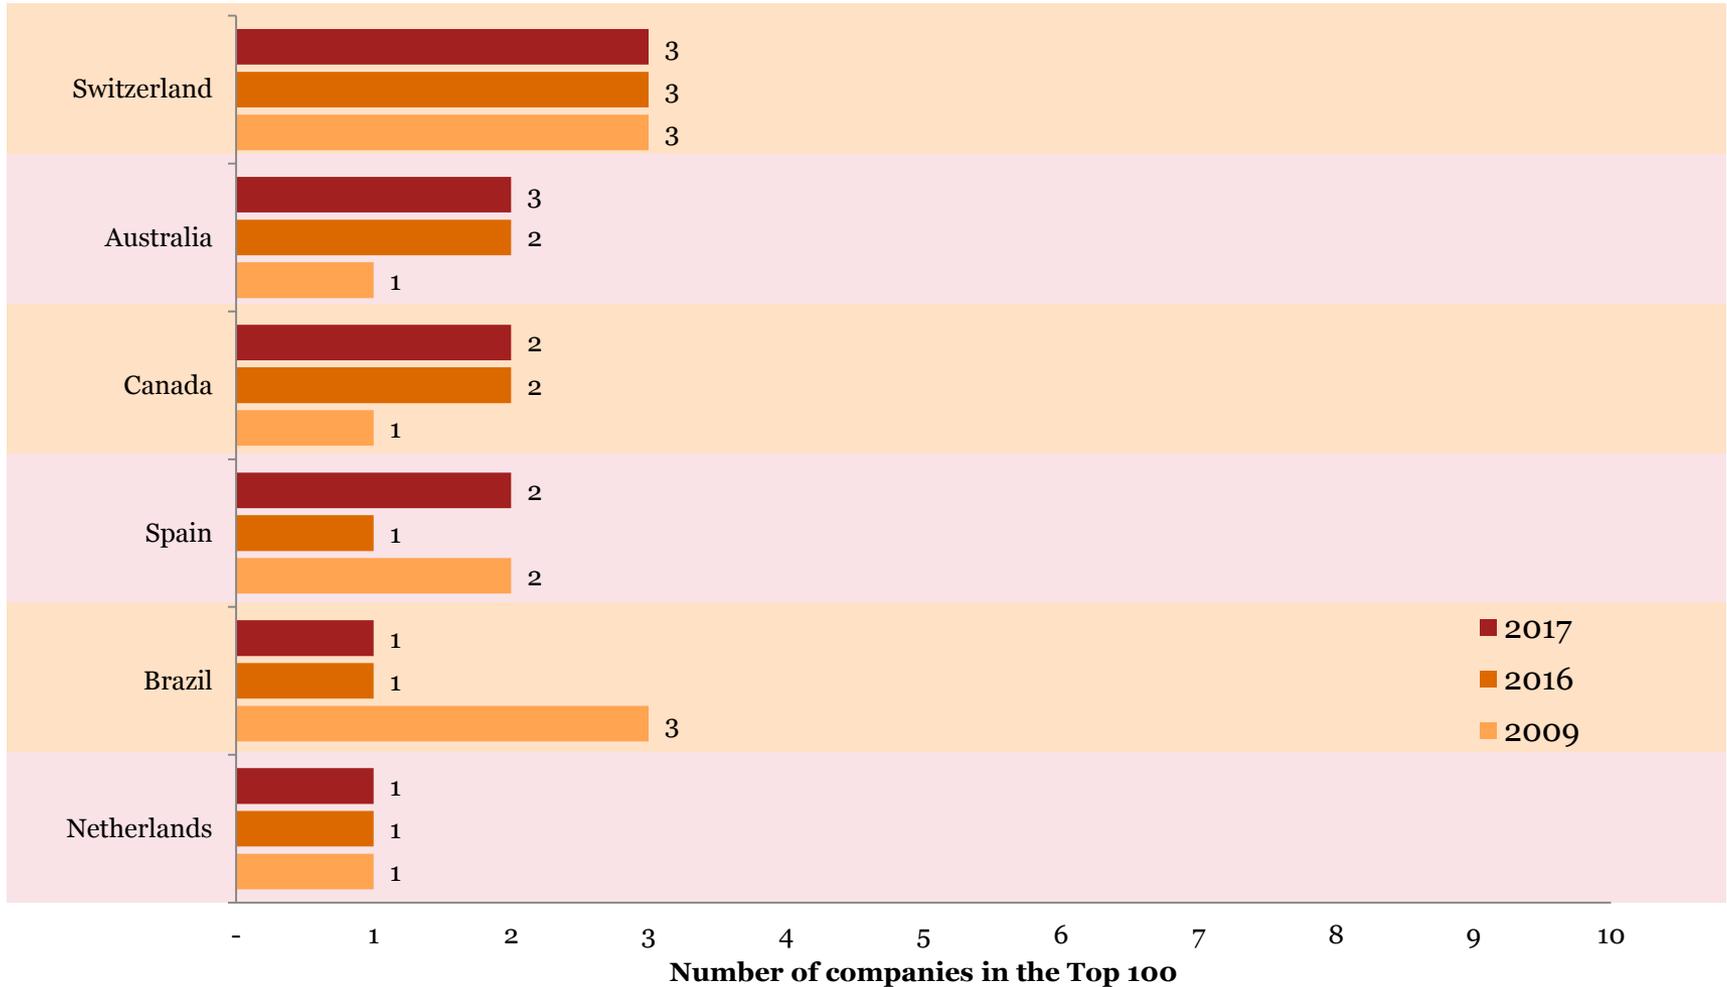

- The US has seen an impressive growth of its share of the largest companies since 31 March 2008. It gained 7 companies between 2008 and 2009 and since then gained an additional 13 companies totalling 55. By market cap the US share was 38% at 31 March 2008 rising to 63% in 2017.
- Europe was badly hit by the financial crisis and lost 10 companies between 31 March 2008 and 2009. It then lost further 9 companies falling to 22 companies in 2017. By market cap Europe's share was 36% at 31 March 2008 dropping to 17% in 2017.
- China/Hong Kong's share had fluctuated between 8 and 11 companies in 2008-2014, but since 2015 stabilised at the level of 11 companies. By market cap China/Hong Kong share was 12% at 31 March 2008 and remained flat at 12% in 2017.

Year-on-year comparison

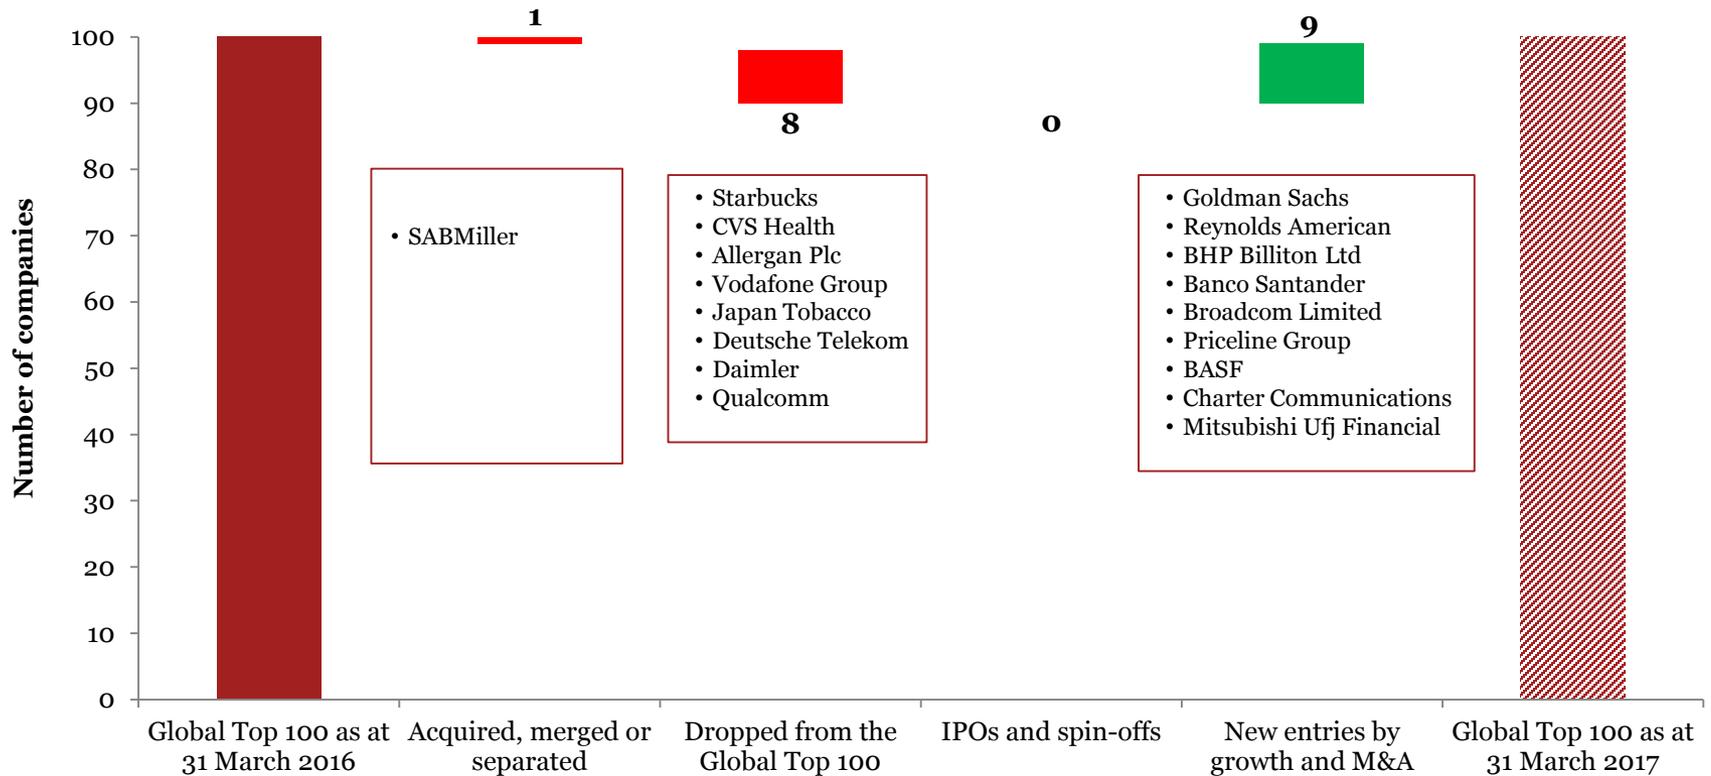

2017 vs. 2016

The movements

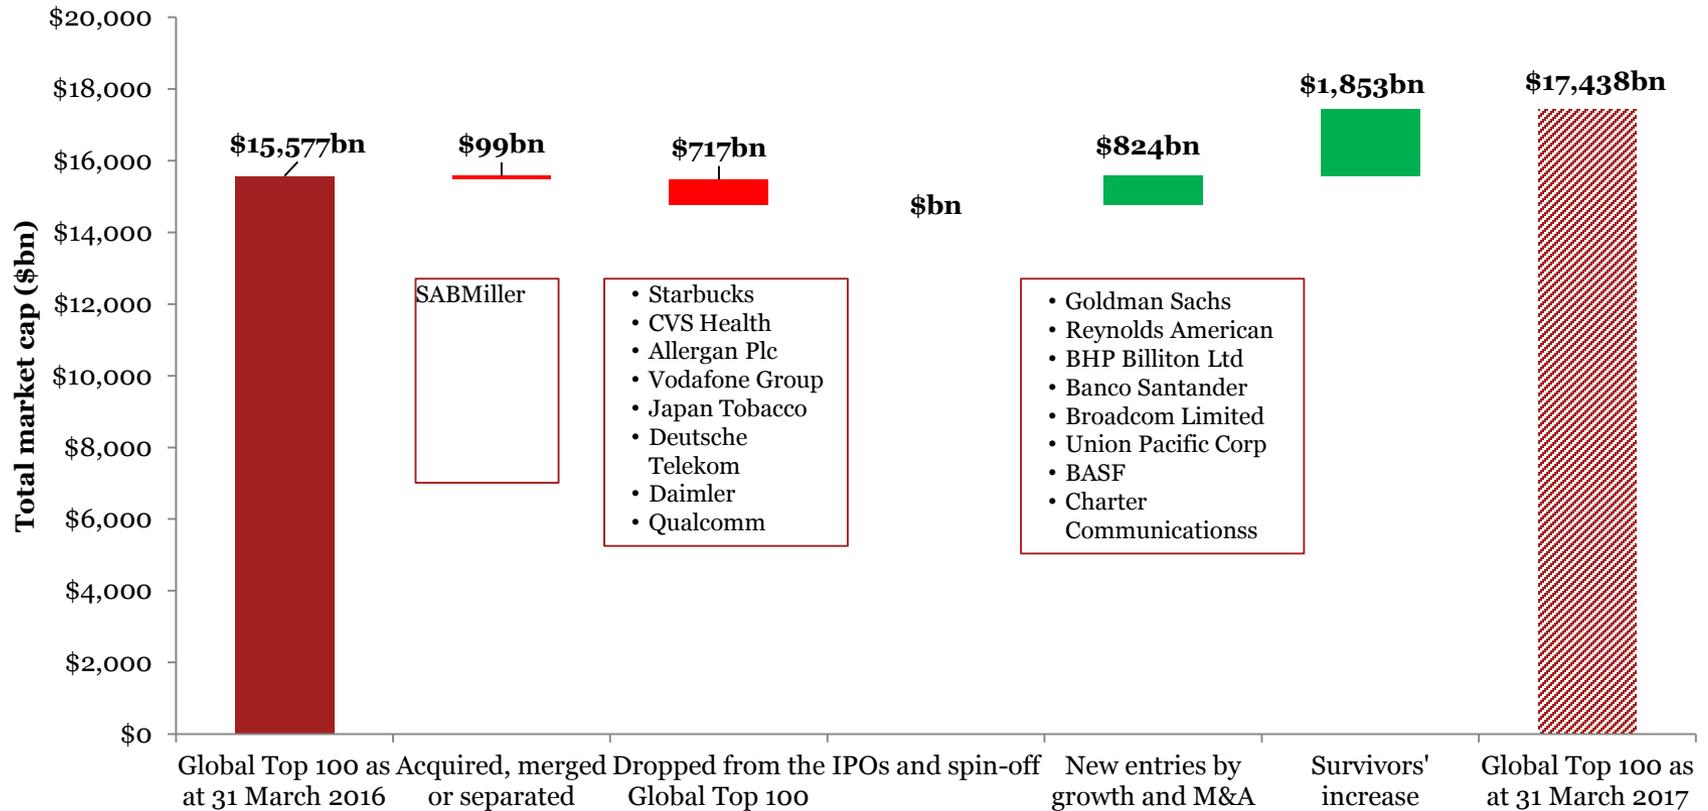

Key highlights

- Top 100 companies market cap increased by 12% compared to 31 March 2016.
- The US is the largest contributor to the Top 100, gaining $1,292bn to reach $10,928. Strong performance by Amazon and Apple have fuelled the US growth.
- China is the second largest contributor to the Top 100, registering an increase of 14% this year to reach $2,025bn
- 91 companies from 2016 survived to be in the list at 31 March 2017 – demonstrating the higher levels of resilience and stability than perhaps seen in the earlier years of our research.
- There were no IPO direct entries this year.
- The market cap of the most valuable company at 31 March 2017, Apple, increased by 150 to $754bn. The US still has the highest combined market capitalisation of national Global Top 100 companies ($10.9trn), a 13% increase since 31 March 2016.
- 2017 has not seen much change in the country split compared to 2016: the US dominates with 55 US companies in the Global Top 100 (54 in 2016). China/HK holds the second position with 11 companies (no change to last year) and the UK comes third with 5 companies.
- The threshold to enter the Top 100 has increased to $88bn this year, compared to $76n in March 2016.

Between 2016 and 2017 there were 9 changes to the Global Top 100

Between 2016 and 2017 the total market cap of the global top 100 increased by $1,861bn

The movements

Key highlights

- Only 7 companies included in 2017 Global Top 100 did not exist in 2009. 64 companies from 2009 Top 100 survived to be in the list at 31 March 2017.
- 3 companies entered the Global Top 100 by IPOs and 1 by spin-off. IPOs: Alibaba (2014), Facebook (2012), Agricultural Bank of China (2011). Spin-off: AbbVie (2013).
- The two main risers since 2009 are technology companies: Apple and Alphabet (ex-Google). Facebook (based on value increase since IPO) and Amazon come next, the latter's status as e-retailer classifying it within Consumer Services. All of them are US companies.
- The threshold to enter the Global Top 100, in 2017 was $88bn in market cap to be in the list, in 2009, $40bn was sufficient.
